May Be Necessary to Cut October Term Short-The Jurors for the Galena Session.

The regular November term of he Cherokee County district court will convene at Galena the morning of November 10th, and unless the wheels of justice should quicken, the October term at Columbus will be cut short. There are yet many civil jury cases to be tried and so far little attention has been given the court cases. It will probably be necessary to hold an adjourned session in Columbus after the November term closes at Galena.

Thirty-six jurors have been drawn for the Galena session. They are:
